Mississippi Teachers' Association at Jackson May 4, 5 and 6

To County Superintendents of Education:

You can do great and useful work if you will urge upon all School Teachers in your respective counties to attend the great Convention of the Mississippi Teachers Association, to be held in Jackson, May 4, 5 and 6.

Distinguished speakers and scholars from this and other states will address the great Convention, and the immense benefit and broadening of mind and spirit to be derived therefrom, are too obvious to need more extended comment.

As leaders of thought and influence in your respective fields, you are mindful of the facts that the more thoroughly the teachers of today are trained the more readily is it reflected in the child or youth—with the result that our social, civic and industrial systems are made stronger and more secure.

Let us, all, then, work to the end of urging the fullest possible attendance upon this great convention.

Let us do this for education and for Mississippi.

Very respectfully,
Jackson Board of Trade.

Gilbert Ivy, carpenter, Gatlin St., Okolona, says: "There is no mistake about Doan's Kidney Pills being good. Some year ago I told how they freed me of pains in my back and other symptoms of kidney trouble and today I can freely give them the same praise. Doan's Kidney Pills brought lasting results in my case and I can't do otherwise than endorse them."

Hon. William C. Ward

For Congress

We are authorized to announce Hon. William C. Ward, of Montgomery, as a candidate for congress from the 4th congressional district, subject to the action of the Democratic party in the August primaries. Mr. Ward is a new man in the candidate business. Neither he nor any member of his immediate family have ever asked for office notwithstanding his beloved father, Dr. B. F. Ward, of Winona, together with his sons, have always taken an active interest in public matters whether political or otherwise. While we have not had the pleasure of knowing Mr. Ward personally, we numbered his brother, the late B. F. Ward, Jr., among our personal friends and regard William as a chip off the same block and as such an affable gentleman and a man of integrity and worth, a capable, scholarly thinker.

We understand he is about 35 years old, a doctor by profession, a farmer by occupation and a student of government from instinct and inheritance. His only active work in politics, so far as we are advised, was as chairman of the Bilbo campaign committee during the hot contest last year, when his man landed with such flying colors as to be without a precedent.

Mr. Ward will address the voters at Houston on the first day of circuit court, April 10, and hopes to see as many present as possible. At that time he will tell the voters the reason for the faith he holds to and why he should be elected to congress. Come out and give him a hearing, consider his claims, study the man and the measures he advocates and give him such support as, in your best judgment, you think these merit. Study both, the men and the measures they advocate and vote for the good of the country.

Adam Carlisle, Sr.

On Saturday evening, about one o'clock, the spirit of Mr. Adam Carlisle, Sr., one of Aberdeen's foremost and most esteemed citizens, crossed into the unknown realm, the mysterious divide that separates the physical from the immortal being. His death is deeply deplored by the entire community, as well as a wide circle of friends and admirers scattered over a wide territory. Mr. Carlisle had lived in Chickasaw county, near Egypt, for many years previous to his coming to Aberdeen, and, in his old home, the news of his death will be received with deep sorrow. While he was yet a young man, he was married to Miss Fannie Gunn, daughter of the Rev. Gunn, remembered and loved as a Primitive Baptist preacher by the old residents of the State far and near. He is survived by the widow, three sons: W. H. Carlisle, president of the Monroe Banking and Trust Co., Adam Carlisle, Jr., and Robert Carlisle. His surviving daughters are Mrs. J. E. Houston, Mrs. Arthur Hinds, Mrs. J. A. Sykes, Mrs. W. P. Paine, all of this city, and Mrs. J. A. Crawford, of West Point. The funeral service was conducted from his late home Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, Rev. J. C. Cunningham, of the Corinth Methodist church, assisted by Rev. C. Cleveland Kiser, pastor of the Aberdeen Baptist church, officiating. In the death of Mr. Carlisle Aberdeen, the county, and the State have sustained a great loss. His influence in the moral, social and business circles of the town will be keenly missed, and The Weekly takes this method of extending its meed of sympathy for the bereaved ones so universally expressed by the community.—The Aberdeen Weekly, March 31.

Home Mission Pageant

Instead of their regular annual meeting the ladies of the Presbyterian Missionary Society gave, on Sunday evening March 26th, a home mission pageant, "Christ in America." This pageant, in which more than twenty-five ladies and young girls took part, was coached by Mrs. Fred Streibich, the society's efficient president.

The church was appropriately decorated in the national colors. Preceding the play a splendid vocal program was rendered, after which Mr. R. J. West gave a short talk explaining the nature and purpose of the entertainment.

Mrs. Harry Fish, as "Columbia", displayed her usual amount of talent in the leading role. Every one wore the costume and carried the flag of the country she represented. They told of the needs, as well as the work being done by the Southern Presbyterian church in their respective communities.

Owing to the fact that the Methodist and Baptist pastors suspended services for the evening, a large congregation was present.

A free-will offering amounting to approximately $50 was taken.

Path of the Kakapo.
Several birds make regular paths to and from their resorts. Those of the Antarctic penguins are noted by all explorers in their region. Very noticeable are those in the haunts of the kakapo, the large, rock-dwelling, burrow-nesting owl-like parrot of the mountains of New Zealand. They beat down regular paths along the spurs and ridges where they abound, so that a person might be excused for supposing they were meant for human feet. It is along these avenues that the birds go to and fro on their nocturnal rambles, and as they march they snip off and perhaps eat every protruding spear of grass or weed, keeping the path perfectly clean. When the path is buried in snow they still follow it on the surface and soon beat down a track.

Felt She Was Neglected.

There was company in the parlor, and little Marjorie, overheard, listened longingly to the sounds of fun and laughter that from time to time floated up to her chamber. When, by and by, her mother came in for a last look and kiss, she found her darling wide awake and reproachful. "Oh, mamma," was the unexpected exclamation of the small maiden. "I've been so lonely, lying here all alone, while you were having such a liberal time downstairs."

Porridge Unjustly Accused.

It is asserted and also denied that porridge was the cause of Thomas Carlyle's ruined digestion. Sir Richard Quain said porridge had nothing to do with his ruined digestion. Sir Richard stated in the British Medical Journal of November 8, 1885, that "the wretched dyspepsia to which Mr. Carlyle was subjected was fully accounted for by the fact that he was particularly fond of very nasty gingerbread. Many times I have seen him sitting in the corner smoking a clay pipe and eating this gingerbread."
